Xarri George

software Entrepreneur

Hello,

I am Xarri George, a software developer hailing from Liberia. My journey in the world of technology has been a testament to dedication and perseverance as I navigated broken systems back home to reach my current position.

My core beliefs center around fairness and equality. I firmly hold the conviction that no one is worth more than another, and I strive to embody this principle in every facet of my life. In addition to my dedication, I possess a strong aptitude for learning and adaptation, allowing me to continuously grow and succeed.

I have a knack for forging meaningful connections and friendships, yet I'm aware that my frankness and tone of voice can sometimes be misunderstood. However, I see these attributes as strengths that help me stay authentic in my interactions.

My overarching aspiration is to become an entrepreneur in the tech industry. I firmly believe that entrepreneurship is the ultimate path to success and making a positive difference. I am convinced that all my goals and dreams can be achieved through a successful journey in software entrepreneurship.
